This Song was Sang by M<sup>r</sup> URBANI at the Edinburgh Concert with unbounded Applause

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of four systems of staves. The first system has a treble and bass staff. The lyrics are: 'Towering trees the fanning of the western gale yet'. The second system also has a treble and bass staff. The lyrics are: 'fright for something still to please by yarrow'. The third system has a treble and bass staff. The lyrics are: 'stream in yarrow vale by yarrow stream in'. The fourth system has a treble and bass staff. The lyrics are: 'yarrow vale, Sy'. The music is in a simple, folk-like style with a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a common time signature (C).

In Yarrow Vale by Yarrow Stream
Sweet pleasure reigns the pensive find
How floods indulge the Shepherd's dream
And Zephyrs soothe the slumbering Maid
While I in Languor wasting rove
Lifting the lonely Woodlark's wail
And the Woods unheeded rove
By Yarrow Stream in Yarrow Vale.

In Yarrow Vale by Yarrow Stream
Nature his Friend his guardian Love
Colin beneath the Moon's soft beam
Had follow'd Mary thro' the Grove
He look'd she blush'd he spoke she sigh'd
No words are made to tell the Tale
O charming Meads and Groves she cried
By Yarrow Stream in Yarrow Vale.
